Dear Trudy,

Sorry to have been so long acknowledging your note. I had just returned from a California trip when Lil tore all the ligaments in her left ankle. As soon as she was in a walking cast I had to go to N.C., and on my return I had some extra work that has kept me too busy. The accumulated mail is stacked high.

Lil is now out of the cast but the ankle is badly swollen still. The doctor says she'll have trouble for perhaps another six months, perhaps longer.

I am glad Bob is making notes, and I do hope we can get together soon.

I'm supposed to make a series of TV broadcasts on Channel 14 on successive Monday nights beginning tomorrow at 7. If I get there early enough I'll phone first.

Best to you all.

Sincerely,
